Introduction

My design process is a reflection of my passion for simplistic artstyle and my love for dogs. By utilizing a beige color palette and playful typography, I crafted a logo that represents my personal brand. The centerpiece of my logo is a simple, a simple cartoon dog that seamlessly integrates the initials R and G. This design choice ensures that my logo is both distinctive and easily recognizable, effectively conveying the essence of my brand.

Color palettes

I decided to use these color palettes for my design as it helps create a warm and inviting feel, making my brand feel approachable. Beige is versatile and pairs well with other colors, ensuring my design remains timeless and elegant.

The prompt i used to generate these images is, “generate an image of personal brand logo using the initials R and G. artstyle should be minimalistic I want to use a cartoon dog in my logo, make the initials R and G fit seamlessly into the design”. The first image generated was pretty decent in terms of what I had visioned but I still felt like it could be better as the letter ‘G’ was not very clear. When I generated again it was exactly what i wanted, a seamless integration of ‘R’ and ‘G’ with a cartoon dog. I then traced the image in illustrator and replaced the text with my name.

Logo (final)

I traced the image and played with the colors and font for my name. Eventually I went with the colors black, 644535, 3c2415 and the font Bauhaus 93. The reason why I chose to use a dog for my design is because dogs symbolize loyalty, friendliness, and approachability—qualities that I want my brand to convey. By integrating the initials R and G seamlessly with the dog, I ensure that my logo is both unique and meaningful, reflecting my personal values and professional identity.

Frontview

Backview

For the front view, I decided to make the logo the main point of the page, hence i enlarged it and place it in the center to catch attention. I then added a bone being “thrown” to the logo as it fits the theme of dog. I also added a cloud and a semi circle in the corner to fill up empty spaces in the environment. I went for the color 'cbb799' as the background instead of pure white to avoid a sharp contrast between the background and logo.

For the back view, I shifted the logo to the left and added my personal information on the right to create a visual anchor, drawing attention first to my logo before moving to my personal information. I then added bones raining from the sky, a dog's paw print on the bottom, a green hill on the bottom and finally a brief tagline “Your best friend in business”. This tagline is engaging and memorable, emphasizing reliability and trustworthiness. It aligns with the dog theme, suggesting that I am a loyal and dependable partner in business.

T-Shirt

On the front, I placed my logo prominently in the center to ensure it is the focal point of the T-shirt. This placement maximizes visibility and brand recognition, making it easy for people to identify my brand at a glance. I added a paw print to each sleeve to tie in with the dog theme of my brand. It adds a playful and unique touch to the design, making the T-shirt more visually interesting and reinforcing my brand identity. The stripes on the sides add a dynamic and sporty element to the T-shirt. They create a slimming effect and add a pop of color, making the overall design more vibrant and appealing. This design choice helps to balance the visual weight of the enlarged logo and the paw prints, creating a cohesive and stylish look.

On the back, I enlarged and centered the paw print to catch attention. I also added a dripping paint effect to spice things up. It gives the impression of movement and fluidity, making the T-shirt more dynamic and visually interesting. Lastly, I drew a portal using 2 eclipses and made the paw seem to emerge from it. This creates a sense of depth and intrigue. It suggests a playful and imaginative concept, making the design more engaging and memorable.

Lock screen

For the lock screen, I used a blue gradient for the background because it's calming and visually appealing. Gradients add depth and interest without being too distracting, making it perfect for a lock screen. I used my dog logo in white to ensure it stands out against the blue gradient. The black circle background creates a strong contrast, making the logo more prominent and easily recognizable. I added a red ring around the logo to give it a saturn planet effect.

For the home screen, I created a playful and chaotic pattern of bones and paws. I changed to background to a solid color instead so it does not bring the attention away from the icons.
